Stella the Fire Farting Dragon Teaches Valuable Lessons & Tickles The Funny Bone
Stella the Fire Farting Dragon, a picture book by J. Aday Kennedy was released by Guardian Angel Publishing on Wednesday, April 14, 2010.

The book entertains and imparts valuable lessons in self esteem, perseverance, and friendship. The author inspires readers with her determination and success. She is a ventilator-dependent quadriplegic. She pecks out her stories with one finger, faith, and thankfulness. “With God all things are possible,” she says.

J. Aday Kennedy lives in Mineola, Texas. She is an award winning multi published author. Her published work for adults includes inspirational and Christian essays and articles in magazines and the popular Chicken Soup for the Soul anthologies. Stella the Fire Farting Dragon is her third picture book. All of her books engage reluctant readers and engulf children in laughter.

In Stella the Fire Farting Dragon, Stella’s nerves threaten her chances of winning the Dragon Realms Talent Contest, but she marshals her nerves and does her best. A lesson of perseverance wrapped in a humorous bite makes the most reluctant readers gobble up this story. They’ll giggle themselves silly as Stella Dragon performs and farts fire.

J. Aday Kennedy, the differently-abled author, is an award winning multi published author of inspirational/Christian pieces and of children’s literature. By April 2009, she’s gotten publishing contracts for nine picture books. She is an inspirational speaker who entertains, instructs, motivates and inspires. She is a ventilator dependent quadriplegic making her dreams come true a story at a time. To learn more about her and her writing, visit her website at www.jadaykennedy.com, her writer’s blog at <http://jadaykennedy.blogspot.com>, or her children’s blog at <http://brainfartexplosion.blogspot.com>.
